

Print your own card instructions

For the best results:

- Print in colour and set your printer to its highest quality.
- Print your card on good quality paper or card. You can buy special greeting card paper at most office and computer supply shops.

To print:

1. Load paper into your printer.
2. Choose File > Print. Use the Print dialog to select a printer and set print options.
3. Follow the steps below. For best results, give the print time to dry before folding and trimming.

A book party for children in Laos

A gift with a difference! You've received a book party in Laos. The book party will be conducted by Big Brother Mouse. This three hour event will be conducted by Big Brother Mouse at a school in rural Laos. Children will talk about books, sing songs about books, and play games. At the end, each child will select a book of their own – very likely the first book they've ever owned.

For more information about your book party gift and how it's increasing literacy rates in Laos, see the Big Brother Mouse website:

1. Score a fold line between these dashed marks

2. Cut across between the four solid corner marks (a scalpel or knife blade on a board works best)
3. Fold in half along the score line from step 1.
4. Fill out your own personal greeting on the reverse side
5. Give your gift with a difference!
